ITEM TITLE: Using SpringfieldOregonSpeaks

ACTION

REQUESTED: Commissioners to become familiar with the new platform created by People Speak that allows for asynchronous meetings in a virtual environment.

ISSUE

STATEMENT: With public meetings having gone to on-line formats, staff started exploring various tools that would facilitate citizen involvement in planning projects and meetings. Staff identified People Speak as a platform designed as a public/private partnership by planners and software engineers to meet the needs of Planning Commissions and other city committees. Use of SpringfieldOregonSpeaks will facilitate the opportunity for the public to participate outside the traditional single-evening timeframe.

ATTACHMENTS: Please review the video at <https://youtu.be/7I3JZR5fVtw>

DISCUSSION:

This agenda item is a chance to ask questions about how to access and use SpringfieldOregonSpeaks. This public engagement platform gives people the chance to review information on-line as they would in-person. It gives them the opportunity to identify issues of interest without having to sift through massive quantities of information and hours of live meetings. The Planning Commission will still hold live meetings and live public hearings, but SpringfieldOregonSpeaks will allow for people to more fully engage with the issues before the meeting as well as during the meeting. It acknowledges public input and provides updates on the status of land use applications as they go through the public hearings process.

Specifically, this discussion will confirm understanding of how citizens can comment or ask questions, how the comments are moderated, how questions from the public are answered, and how the platform acknowledges that the comments have been reviewed.

The discussion will also ensure that Commissioners know how to ask staff questions and how they will receive staff responses through the platform.

This meeting is also an opportunity to identify questions that staff can take to People Speak as they continue to learn how best to use the capabilities of this new platform.

ISSUE TITLE:	Wetlands and Riparian Corridors Explained: What are they, and why do they matter?
ACTION REQUESTED:	Gain familiarity with SpringfieldOregonSpeaks by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Identifying the functions of wetlands and riparian corridors that appear relevant to the Urban Growth Boundary (UGB) expansion areas• Sharing examples of favorite places with water resources (such as wetlands and riparian corridors) and why these places are considered CCI Members' favorites
ISSUE STATEMENT:	Staff is interested in using this opportunity to test the SpringfieldOregonSpeaks platform by providing an overview of what wetlands and riparian corridors are and what they offer. From there, staff would like to hear from the CCI about the two items listed in the Action Requested section above.
ATTACHMENTS:	ATTACHMENT 1: Factsheet: Wetland and Riparian Functions ATTACHMENT 2: Study Area Map ATTACHMENT 3: Study Area Photos
DISCUSSION:	An update to Springfield's Natural Resources Study (Study) first requires an updated inventory of wetlands and riparian corridors. Together, updates to the Study and the inventory are part of the Wetland & Riparian Inventories for UGB Expansion Areas project. The CCI met on April 21, 2020 to approve the project's Community Engagement Plan. In 2021, Planning Commission will meet to recommend preferred options for protecting wetlands and riparian corridors with a policy-based approach. A deeper understanding of what wetlands and riparian corridors are can inform these future steps in the project. This project involves evaluating the degree to which each wetland and riparian corridor provides plant life, fish and wildlife habitat, water quality, and more. These factors, among others, represent the functions of wetlands and riparian corridors. Attachment 1 highlights why these resources matter with regard to the functions they serve. The video of the staff presentation for this issue expands upon Attachment 1 with ways these water resources benefit Springfield and our region. Based on content in the video and attachments, the CCI can discuss with staff which functions are most likely to apply to Springfield's UGB expansion area. An overview map of the study areas within the UGB expansion area is in Attachment 2 to orient readers to the geographic scope of this inventory and update project. Photos of some of the resources in each of the three study areas are in Attachment 3. After the CCI identifies some of the functions water resources throughout the UGB expansion area will provide, staff request an opportunity to learn from the CCI about what Members' favorite places are that have water resources such as wetlands (e.g., areas near ponds, streams, etc.) and riparian corridors (e.g., areas near streams, rivers, etc.) and why these places are considered favorite places.

WETLANDS & RIPARIAN CORRIDORS

WHAT ARE THEY?

WHAT DO THEY DO? WHY DOES THIS MATTER?

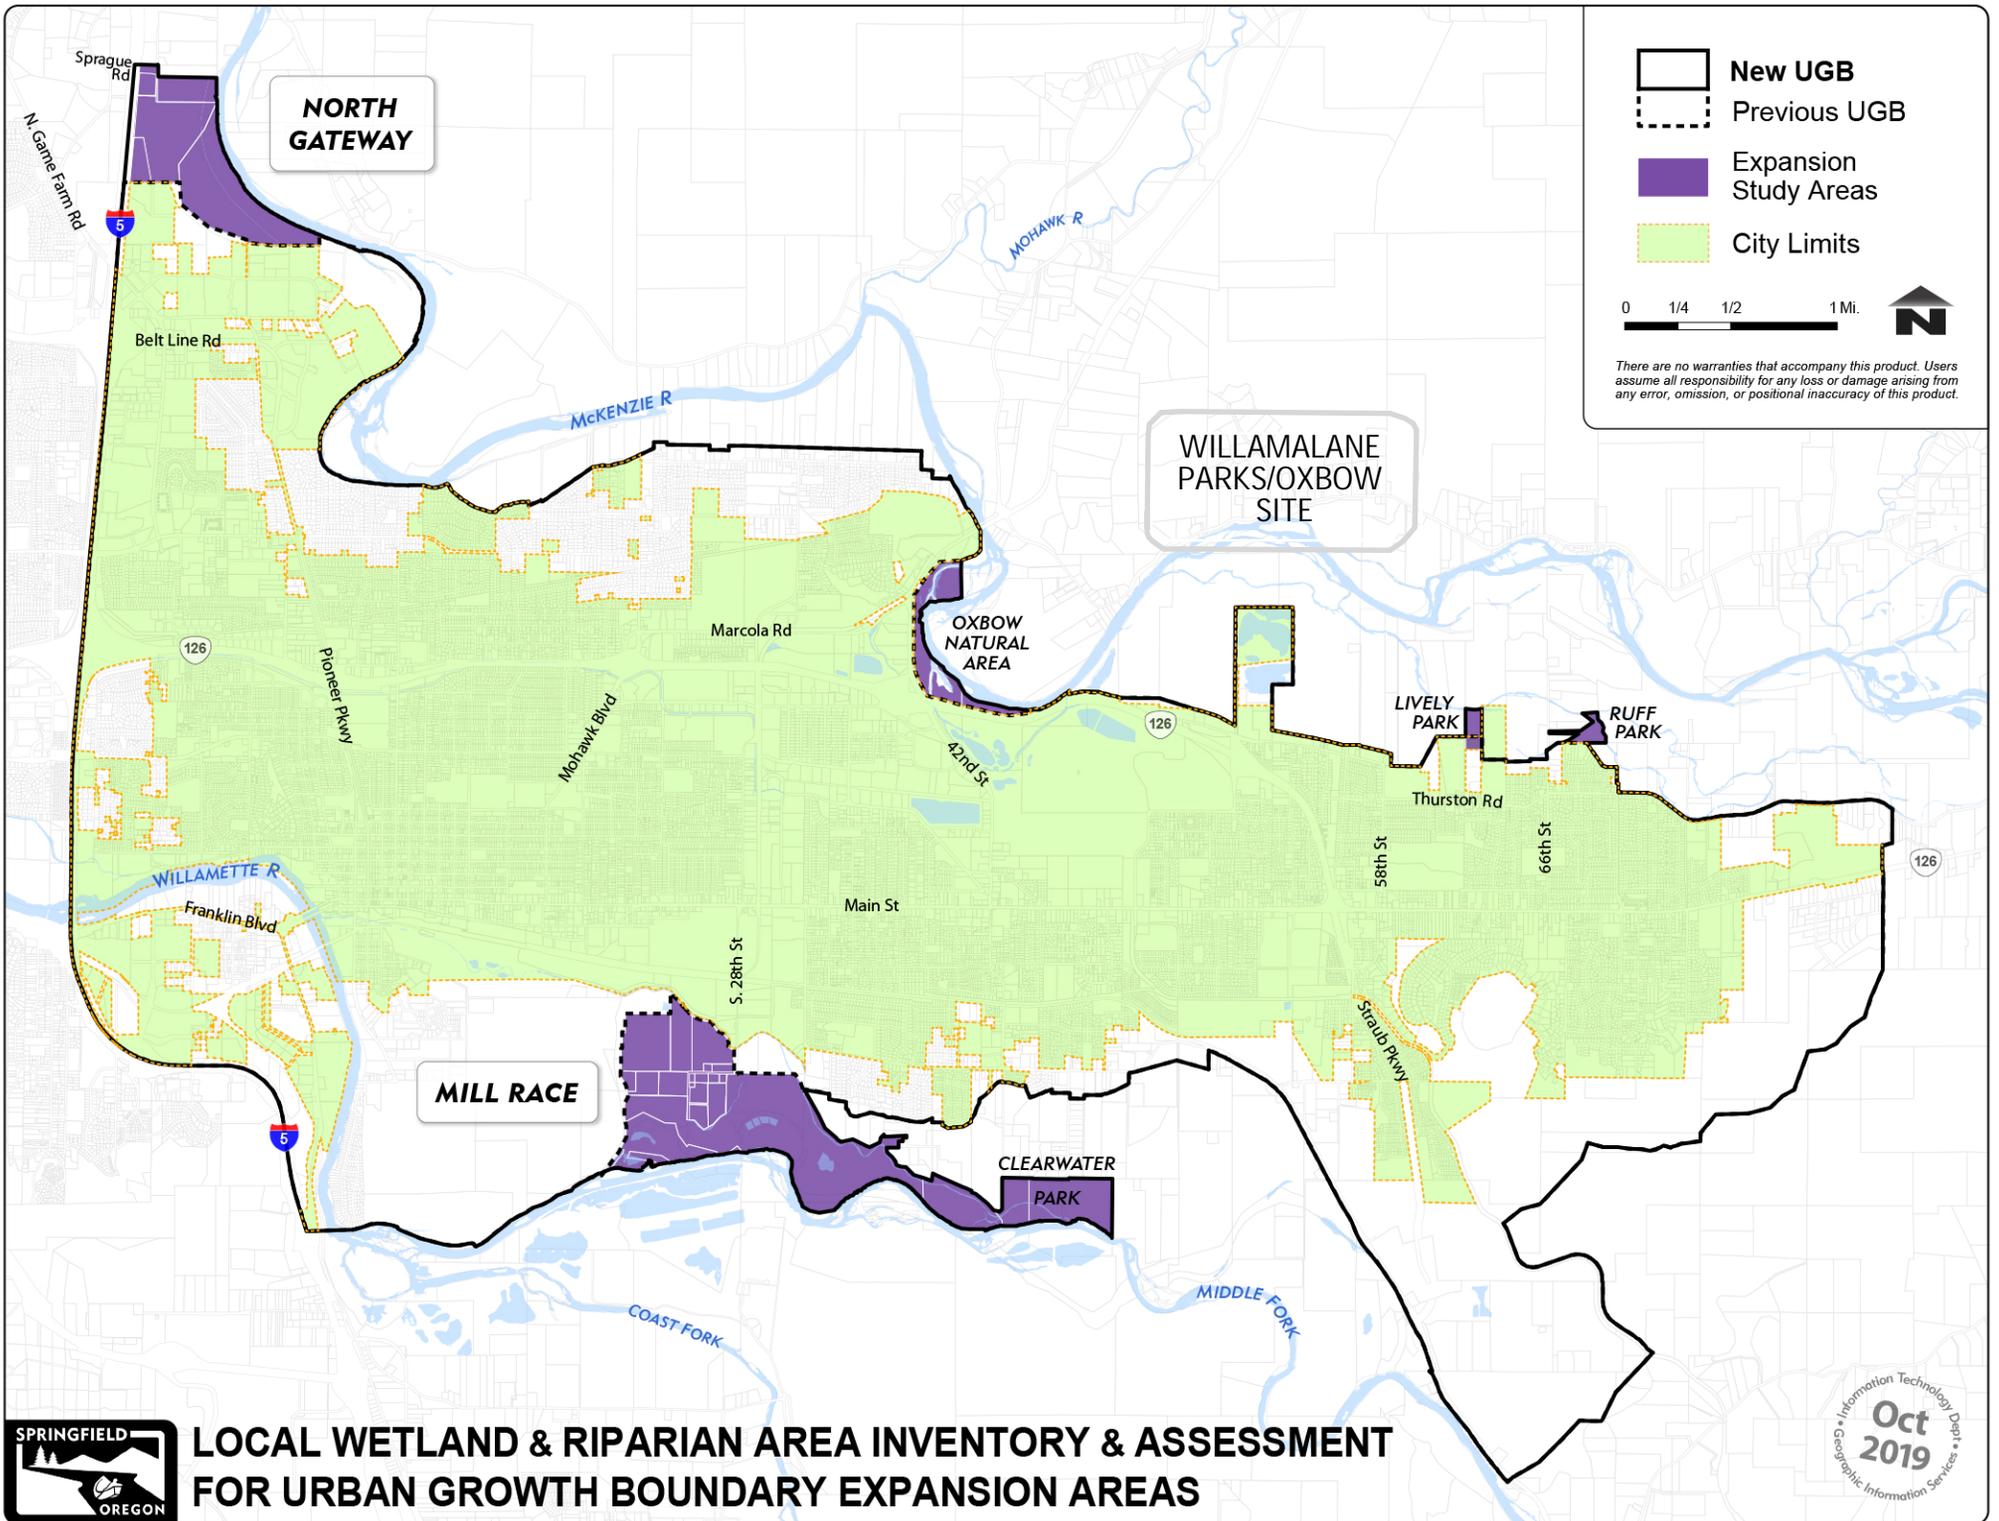

Wetlands are areas that are saturated by surface water or ground water, where such water occurs at a frequency and duration sufficient to support types of vegetation that are adapted for life in saturated soil conditions. Simply stated, wetlands are areas with plants and soils that are best-suited to wet conditions.

Riparian corridors are waterways and the land area directly along the waterway. When left in a more natural state, they are buffers between the water and many human impacts.

Wetlands and riparian corridors have many functions. They:

- Equip us to handle flood emergencies: Wetlands and riparian corridors can act like sponges and absorb floodwater. An acre of wetland can store between 1-1.5 million gallons of floodwater.
- Enhance water quality: The vegetation in these areas reduces erosion of areas along the bank (especially riparian areas) because of roots in the soil. Both the underground and aboveground parts of a plant keep waste and other residue like sediment out of water when it flows to a stream or river after the rain. Wetlands act as filters and purifiers because they absorb and hold water before it soaks into the ground. Wetlands can remove as much as 90 percent of solids in water.
- Provide various species places to live: The strips of land that follow the river are critical travel corridors because they allow animals to move freely. Shade from trees and other plants cools water to a temperature that allows aquatic-based life to survive. The waterbodies themselves serve as habitat that allows for shelter to hide, breed, or sleep. Although wetlands only make up about 5 percent of the land surface in the contiguous United States, wetlands are home to 31 percent of our nation's plant species.
- Boost aesthetic & property values: Market prices can sometimes reflect the "quality of life" or amenity values provided by wetlands and riparian corridors. For residential development in urban areas, the market price of properties with views of natural areas is often greater than the price of similar properties without these views.
- Offer spaces for recreation & education: These areas allow for great places to enjoy and learn about the outdoors. Opportunities for recreation include parks and trails. Here, classes and tours can also interact up-close with the featured educational topic.

COMMITTEE FOR CITIZEN INVOLVEMENT (CCI)

ITEM TITLE: Examples of Outreach in Eugene During COVID

ACTION REQUESTED: None. Informational item.

ISSUE STATEMENT: The cities of Springfield and Eugene border each other and each have an integral part of the regional housing and economic markets. The cities also share the natural environment at the southern end of the Willamette Valley. Although divided by Interstate 5, people freely cross over that border to work, shop, and recreate. Like other large cities in Oregon, Eugene also must comply with recent legislation focused on housing. As such, it may be of interest to the Springfield Committee for Citizen Involvement what types of outreach Eugene has undertaken during the pandemic.

ATTACHMENTS: ATT1 – Middle Housing Public Involvement Plan

DISCUSSION: Sophie McGinley is not only a Springfield Planning Commissioner; she is an Assistant Planner for the City of Eugene’s Office of Metropolitan and Community Planning. She is leading the public engagement efforts for the City’s Middle Housing Code Amendments and is also part of outreach efforts for other Eugene planning projects. She will be sharing some of the tools and techniques that the City of Eugene has been using to involve the Eugene community in a safe manner, considering the on-going spread of COVID-19.

Middle Housing Code Amendments

Implementation of House Bill 2001

Public Involvement Plan – Approved August 11, 2020

I. Overview

We all need a place to live that we can afford, but in Eugene, almost half of us pay more than we can afford for housing. That makes it hard for many of our residents to pay for other needs like food, clothing, health care, transportation, and education. This is why we need to take steps so that more Eugeneans are living in housing we can afford. Encouraging more housing types within residentially zoned areas can improve housing affordability in Eugene, in addition to improving housing availability and diversity. Provide Housing Affordable to All Income Levels is one of the Envision Eugene pillars, and our local plans and codes implement the Statewide Planning Goal 10, Housing, aimed at providing for the housing needs of people across the state.

In 2019, the Oregon Legislature passed House Bill 2001, intended to help provide Oregonians with more housing choices, especially housing choices more people can afford. The Bill requires the City to amend our Land Use Code to allow duplexes to be allowed “on each lot or parcel zoned for residential use that allows for the development of detached single-family dwellings” and triplexes, quadplexes, cottage clusters, and townhouses “in areas zoned for residential use that allow for the development of single-family dwellings.”

The Eugene Land Use Code is our agreement about what, where, and how we build in Eugene. One thing we can do together as a community is set regulations that are fair and protect our quality of life, but are also not overly expensive, risky, or time consuming for people who build housing. Updating our regulations to reduce barriers can allow our community to build new housing more quickly, in more places, with less cost and increase social equity and diversity.

The City of Eugene “may regulate siting and design of middle housing.” The Department of Land Conservation and Development will develop minimum standards for compliance with the bill as well as a model code by December 31, 2020. The City of Eugene is required to adopt the model code or our own alternative by June 30, 2022. If the City does not meet the project deadline, the model code will automatically apply.

Traditional public outreach methods have excluded many community members and perspectives. Additionally, we are now living in a pandemic and moving to mostly virtual engagement – an opportunity for the City to expand who we can hear from. The project will use a broad array of equitable outreach and engagement strategies such as meetings with subject matter experts, a Healthy Democracy Community Jury, a roundtable of representatives from boards, commissions, neighborhood associations and local partners, as well as on-line and in person opportunities with the general public.

Revising our Land Use Code to comply with House Bill 2001 will shape how our community develops and expand opportunities for where people can choose to live and what type of home they can live in. We have the opportunity to use Land Use Code changes to make our neighborhoods more inclusive and more equitable for everyone to enjoy.

I. Goals of the Public Involvement Plan

This plan is meant to serve as a guide through the process of developing and adopting amendments to Eugene's Land Use Code to comply with House Bill (HB) 2001 to allow for middle housing types throughout Eugene residential neighborhoods. This plan outlines the approach to public involvement for the life of the project and contains goals and a plan for project communications, which addresses when and how city staff will communicate with key stakeholders and the general public. The Public Involvement Plan:

- Describes opportunities and different ways people can engage in the planning process;
- Details how individuals and organizations with a stake in the outcome of the Land Use Code can effectively participate; and
- Is consistent with the City's Public Participation Guidelines and Statewide Planning Goal 1.

The Project Team is committed to a public engagement process that is:

- Meaningful: We will use the input received to help draft amendments to Eugene's Land Use Code, within the requirements of HB 2001 and related state laws.
- Accountable: We will respond to ideas, critique, comments and praise.
- Inclusive: We will strive to communicate with all stakeholders, including under-represented groups, in ways that people understand and can relate to.
- Transparent: We will make decisions public and share information in a variety of ways.
- Realistic: We will inform people about the project's constraints, scope and timeline, including the requirements of HB 2001 and related state laws.
- Outcome-oriented: We will create a community-supported and City adopted land use code amendments.

The City of Eugene Values and Principles for Public Participation will guide the project from start to finish. The core values for public engagement include:

- Careful Planning and Preparation
- Inclusion and Demographic Diversity
- Collaboration and Shared Purpose
- Transparency and Trust
- Impact and Action
- Sustained Engagement and Participatory Culture

Specifically, the activities of the public involvement plan will include:

- Building on previous engagement and visioning from the Envision Eugene process, Housing Tools and Strategies, the Climate Action Plan Equity Panel, and ongoing housing work
- Early input and involvement from agency subject matter experts
- Engagement with representatives from boards, commissions and local partners, including neighborhood associations
- Input and guidance from the Eugene Planning Commission project resource group
- Outreach materials and online opportunities for the general public to provide input through a variety of events and formats
- Balancing differing community input with the seven pillars of Envision Eugene and the requirements of Oregon's Statewide Planning Goals and House Bill 2001 and related state requirements.
- A public hearing and adoption process with City of Eugene Planning Commission and City Council.

II. Public Involvement Process

Implementation of House Bill 2001 to allow for middle housing types will result in changes to Eugene’s Land Use Code (Chapter 9) and potentially to adopted land use plans. The land use code/plan amendment process will begin with the approval of a public involvement plan by the Planning Commission, who serves as the City’s Citizen Involvement Committee. From there, city staff will lead public engagement activities throughout summer and fall of 2020, as outlined below. In the fall of 2020, consultants and city staff will create land use code concepts that comply with HB 2001 minimum standards and will then be presented to the public and decision makers for feedback. Using this feedback, the concepts will be translated into draft land use code language, which will undergo review and revision to meet the community’s needs and state law. The adoption process will then consist of a public hearing before the Planning Commission, who will provide a recommendation to City Council, followed by a City Council public hearing and action.

The following is a summary of Project Phases, Deliverables, and Timeline:

Decision-Making

After the project team assembles draft code from analysis and feedback as outlined above, the draft code language will go through an adoption process which will culminate with a decision from the Eugene City Council. The figure below is the International Association of Public Participation (IAP2)’s spectrum of public participation, which shows varying levels of engagement based on the level of public impact. The Project Participation Levels below show how this relates to the general public and key stakeholders for this process.

IAP2 Spectrum of Public Participation

IAP2's Spectrum of Public Participation was designed to assist with the selection of the level of participation that defines the public's role in any public participation process. The Spectrum is used internationally, and it is found in public participation plans around the world.

Communications and Public Engagement Activities

This section outlines various communication methods along with an estimated timeline of when certain project milestones will occur. Given the COVID-19 pandemic, an emphasis will be placed on online methods that comply with current health guidelines and engage a broad spectrum of the community to gather feedback on the design and code concepts, code framework, and draft land use code language. As guidelines change, the methods will be reevaluated for safety, inclusivity and effectiveness. Translation services will be provided where feasible.

The majority of these engagement activities focus on developing and receiving input on the draft land use code language to be developed. Staff will evaluate the effectiveness of different methods and adapt as we proceed. Planned communications and public engagement activities include:

- Website – provide project information and documents (fact sheets, general process timeline, videos, summaries of outreach efforts, etc.)
 - Including posting information about the context and exclusionary history of residential zoning.
- Engage Eugene – house public engagement elements of the process (surveys, Q&A, videos, open forum, etc.)
- City Newsletters – use existing City E-Newsletters to provide regular project updates including: Envision Eugene, City Council Newsletter, Neighborly News and others.
- Social Media – use existing City accounts on Instagram, Facebook, and Twitter to get messages out, post videos, and advertise engagement opportunities.
 - Pilot “online office hours” on Twitter and/or Facebook.
 - Engage with community members on NextDoor and Reddit
 - Host Facebook Live community conversations about the relationship between zoning and race, sustainability, transit, and more.
 - Use inclusive social media and have a presence on multiple platforms.
- Healthy Democracy – pilot a curated group of Eugene community members who are representative of the general population and will be compensated for their time at two points in the process. This component is intended to produce a more equitable decision-making process for the Middle Housing Implementation project.
- Meeting in a Box – create printable/digital meeting materials for local organizations, neighborhood associations, and other interested parties to provide feedback on the project without having staff present or having to attend a public meeting.
- Local Media – Marketing for the project in The Register Guard, Eugene Weekly, local news affiliates
- Roundtable Workshops –
 - Equity RoundTable: The equity roundtable will build on work from the Equity Panel used for the Climate Action Plan 2.0 and foster future partnerships pertinent to housing with the City and among panel members. This roundtable will be facilitated and representatives will be compensated for their participation.
 - Boards and Commissions RoundTable: Representatives from Boards such as the Housing Policy Board, Commissions such as Planning Commission and Sustainability Commission and local partners will provide input on the draft code language before final concepts go to Council for decision making.
- Public Open House(s) –The community will have opportunities to review and give input on all new modified Land Use Code sections from the roundtable workshop(s). Staff will consider meeting times and locations, including online opportunities, to provide equitable access to all community members, and to comply with current health guidelines.

- Community and Stakeholder Presentations – Open invitation for informational presentations at existing community and neighborhood meetings or events.

Other possible activities, depending on staff capacity, include:

- Student Outreach – Virtual staff visits to relevant classes at Lane Community College, and the University of Oregon to conduct outreach.
- Middle Housing Art Show – Display materials made by community members that depict their visions of middle housing types.

Equity and Inclusivity

Residential Zoning has a complex history that resulted in exclusion of low-income, black, indigenous, and people of color from certain neighborhoods. In Oregon this history was especially harmful with direct exclusion of non-white people from the state from 1844 until 1926. Although those exclusions are illegal today, their negative impacts are still affecting our community through the legacy of exclusionary zoning. Housing policy and code changes are an opportunity to mitigate those. A component of the Public Involvement Plan will be to educate the public about this history and the connection between housing policy, zoning, and equity.

Additionally, the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic presents challenges and opportunities to conducting an equitable and inclusive public engagement process. Current health recommendations prohibit large, in-person gatherings. This means that our engagement will shift to include mostly virtual opportunities to engage. Efforts such as the Healthy Democracy panel, online forums, use of social media, mobile-friendly webpage design, and new creative tactics will be used. The project team is committed to an inclusive approach that removes barriers and results in community-wide participation.
